POWELL RIVER BOY SLAIN AND BURIED

Heading Rush to Search for Gold In Yukon Creeks

Old-Time Prospectors, With Equipment Piled High on Decks, Leave Vancouver For Northern Fields—Scene Is Reminiscent of Wild Days of Klondike Strike

VANCOUVER, April 6 (CP).—Like a page out of the wild days of last century's and, old-time prospectors, with knapsacks, picks, high boots, and even snowshoes, crowded the decks of the Canadian Pacific coastal liner, Princess Norah, as she pulled out of Vancouver tonight, for the North. They are Yukon-bound, to open up the old creeks which may carry a golden flow, with the hope in every breast of a big strike.

Captain R. D. Adams, who, as a member of the Silver Wave Cocos Island expedition a couple of years ago, failed to find the fabled wealth of the Pacific Isle, turned his face to the Northern Lights to find fortune away from the sweating jungles.

HEADING FOR LIARD

He has a party of ten with him and will fly into the Liard River district and stay there until winter. He hopes to break new and interesting ground.

"The world is due for a big strike," he said tonight, the gleam of the gold-seeker in his eye. "After every depression gold has brought the cure."

OTHERS ON BOARD

William Donnelly, of Seattle, also had a party of prospectors with him. Captain W. H. Barrington and Captain N. Marion, river-boat skippers, and other transportation parties, were on board.

Bishop W. A. Geddes, of the Anglican Diocese of Yukon, and Bishop T. T. Rowe, Episcopal Bishop of Alaska, also sailed on the Norah.

WANTS TO SEE FRIEND AGAIN

Jack Morgan Finds Civilization Fearsome—Back to Woods and Dog

SAN JOSE, Cal., April 6 (AP).—Modern life proved too much, today, for Jack Morgan, a seventeen-year-old Canadian, who, until last December, said he had never seen a woman, had known but four men, and never heard of an electric light, train or automobile.

Leaving a note that "this life has got me down," he vanished from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLellan, who had taken him in as a foster son, and started back for the woods of the Mackenzie river district in the Northwest Territories. "I'm afraid of so many people, so I'm going back to the place where I came from," the boy said. "I'm lonesome for my dog."

Carefully he put away the suit and other articles which the McLellans had purchased for him. The cabin for which Jack is headed, and where he was reared by his father from the time he was eleven months old until the father was killed and Jack decided to try civilization, last December, is 200 miles from the nearest trading post and 1,000 miles from the nearest railroad.

DEMONSTRATION SPEEDILY ENDED

Police and War Veterans Break Up Communist Parade—Six Men Severely Beaten

SEATTLE, April 6 (AP).—Police and American war veterans broke up a Communist anti-war demonstration here, tonight. Half a dozen young so-called "Reds" were severely beaten, and eleven men arrested.

A planned demonstration during war was staged before, against an Army Day parade.

The street fighting started when a truck, bearing two large banners denouncing war, eased into the line of march of the military and patriotic organizations observing Army Day with a parade and speeches at the Eagles' Auditorium.

A spectator leaped at the truck, tearing off the banner. War veterans overtook the other truck at Ninth and Union Streets, pulling its cargo of three young men into the street.

Salt Lake City Slightly Shocked

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 6 (AP).—A slight earthquake was felt here at 7:16 o'clock tonight. It was so indistinct that many persons called newspaper offices to confirm reports received from friends. Information reaching here from Pocatello, Idaho, 180 miles north of here, indicated some persons there had noted the disturbance also at 7:16 o'clock.

Rum-Ship Captain Stands Convicted Of Stealing Vessel

Skipper Found Guilty of Seizing Own Craft Laden With Liquor When Detained by R.C.M.P. Off Nova Scotia Coast—Motion in Arrest of Judgment Entered

HALIFAX, April 6 (CP).—Leading character in a thrilling drama of the sea, Captain Ross Mason, of the rum-runner Kromhout, was convicted by a Supreme Court jury, tonight, on three charges in connection with the Lunenburg craft's escape from seizure off the Cape Breton coast, and her dash to St. Pierre with a prize crew of sea-going Royal Canadian Mounted Police aboard.

After deliberating two and three-quarter hours, the jury found the youthful master guilty of stealing his own vessel, stealing its cargo of liquor and obstructing police officers.

A sequel was promised by W. Pitt Potter, Mason's counsel, who introduced a formal motion in arrest of judgment, on the ground that the indictment indicated no offence. In the ordinary course of events, sentence would be passed at conclusion of the court's criminal sittings. At the discretion of the presiding justice the motion may be considered.

ONE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Another Injured When Four Coaches Leave Tracks at Mount Vernon

MOUNT VERNON, Wash., April 6 (AP).—Thomas Anderson, Seattle, conductor of a Northern Pacific passenger train, saw something was wrong after the train passed through Mount Vernon today, leaped for the signal cord—and in the wreck of the train he was thrown through a window, pinned beneath an overturned coach and killed.

O. E. Braughn, of Bellingham, the engineer, said he believed the trucks of the baggage car were defective, causing four cars to leave the tracks. Pelts Trumbury, express man, suffered head and shoulder injuries. The passengers sustained only slight bruises.

The train was a special, going to Wickham to pick up members of the Civilian Conservation Corps, but as it was routed to Bellingham, eight passengers had been taken along.

Large Timber Tract At Cowichan Bought By Group of Mills

Nearly One Billion Feet Involved in Deal—Industrial Timber Mills, Ltd., and Empire Lumber Company Among Principals

THE Lacey timber holdings on the west side of Cowichan Lake, involving approximately 3,000 acres, with a stand estimated at a maximum of 260,000 board feet to the acre, has been sold to the Industrial Timber Mills, Ltd., the Empire Lumber Company, and other allied organizations controlled by the American Finance and Securities Company, of New York, and the estate of Henry D. Moore, of Philadelphia, it was announced yesterday by Arthur J. Patton, counsel for the purchasers.

The timber, amounting, it is believed, to nearly one billion feet, has been bought on a sliding scale of rates, the minimum of which is forty cents a thousand for standing timber, all of which is held under British Columbia Government license. Reuben F. Chaplin, of London, England, was the vendor. He has held the tract for more than twenty years. The tract is known as the Lacey holdings, being named after J. D. Lacey, of Chicago, who, with the Royal Trust Company, acted for the vendor in making the sale. Under the scale on which the timber was sold, the Industrial Timber Mills, Ltd., and Empire Lumber Company, secured a 24 per cent tax on such exports.

Wage Board in Third Day on Lumber Issue

THOUGH it addressed itself seriously to the task of striking a minimum rate to apply to lumber and logging industry at two further sessions yesterday, the Industrial Relations Board adjourned last evening with the intention of holding a further sitting this morning. Hon. G. S. Pearson intimated that it was hoped the decision of the board could be announced today. Some up-land delegations have yet to be heard. It is understood, Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, is presiding over the deliberations of the board. Means of settling the present strike is one of the chief issues involved.

MOUNT GUNS IN CITY HALL

Minneapolis Authorities Battle With Riotous Mob—No Shots Fired

MINNEAPOLIS, April 6 (AP).—A coming, cursing mob of 6,000 unemployed rioted over meat-patented sidewalks today as authorities battled them beneath hidden muzzles of machine guns mounted in the City Hall Courthouse, which the chief of police said, was the reported target of a bomb plot. No shots were fired, but tear gas lingered in the air for hours after rioters, including thirteen policemen, were taken to hospitals with injuries suffered in twice clashing with rioters within three hours. The militia was not requested by the police, although demanded by several judges.

THIRTY IN JAIL

Thirty persons were jailed and many had bruised faces and cracked skulls.

Hours afterward the building was surrounded by a cordon of police, warned by Chief Johannes, to be on the alert for an attempt to bomb the structure, rumors of which he said he received. He said

IS MASTER OF KING'S 'MUSIC'

Sir Walford Davies Awarded British Musicians' Highest Attainable Honor

LONDON, April 6 (CP).—Sir Walford Davies, Welsh composer, Master of the King's "Music," it was announced today.

Eminent organist and composer, Sir Walford Davies was chosen for the masses for his long series of popular talks on music. Rare combination of the master musician and popular lecturer, he is known to many thousands of British school children who have heard the talks.

In the ancient past he succeeded the late Sir Edward Elgar, renowned composer of "Pomp and Circumstance" and other marches. Sir Walford has two symphonies and many choral works to his credit, as well as a mass of church and chamber music.

CARRIES TITLE ONLY

The appointment carries nothing more than the title, but the title in itself is the highest honor a British musician can achieve. Sir Walford's appointment was received with general approval as royal recognition of a musician who can turn from the creative to the interpretative.

Sir Walford is sixty-four years of age, and a native of Salop. He was a chorister at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, and after teaching music for some time, became conductor of the London Bach Choir. In 1927, he became organist of the Royal Chapel.

RARE STAMPS TO BE PUT ON SALE

American Collections Going Under the Hammer in London—One Worth Half Million

LONDON, April 6 (CP, via Havas).—Stamp collectors are journeying to London to bid for several American collections, one of them containing a black Canadian twenty penny stamp, issued in 1852 and valued at $5,500. It was learned today.

One of the big stamp merchants of the West End returned recently from the United States with several collections, which he is now showing on the Strand, and, as soon as the stamps have been evaluated, they will be sold at auction. One collection that has attracted attention is that of the late Arthur Hinds, of Buffalo, N.Y. It is estimated to be worth more than $500,000.

Searchers Find Body Hidden in Sand Near Westview Highway

Johnnie McFarlane, Aged Ten, Disappeared Tuesday—Remains Uncovered From New Grave in Woods—Head Terribly Battered—Crime Investigators Rushed to Scene From Vancouver

THE mangled body of little Johnnie McFarlane, aged ten years, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George McFarlane, Westview, a suburb of Powell River, was found in a shallow grave 300 yards from his home, by police and civilian searchers, yesterday afternoon. Aroused citizens of the paper town are making feverish search for the brutal slayer of the lad. Provincial Police headquarters for "E" Division, in Vancouver, have sent Detective Marcus Phipps and Constable N. S. Winegard to the scene, to assist resident Constable Herdman in seeking a solution of the mysterious crime. Further reinforcements from the criminal investigation department of the Provincial constabulary will be rushed to the scene, if required.

On Tuesday afternoon little Johnnie, enjoying his Easter vacation to the full, planned to go fishing with two companions. Obtaining permission to do so, he ran happily away from his home—and vanished.

SEARCH MADE
When he did not return for supper his parents became alarmed and sought the two boys who were to have gone with him. They could give no reason for his disappearance. An appeal was made to the police, and as hour after hour passed by, friends and neighbors offered their assistance. With daylight Wednesday, larger search parties were organized.

The river banks were examined and the shoreline from the big paper mills to Myrtle Point was patrolled without finding trace of the boy. Thinking that he might have slipped into one of the dams from which penstocks carry water to the milling operations, company officials had yesterday morning had two of the big reservoirs drained. The whole town was organized in the search for the little chap, who was a general favorite with all who knew him. Men off shift went directly to join in the general hunt.

No Arrest in Bremerton Murder Case—Kimble Not Wanted Man

BREMERTON, Wash., April 6 (AP).—A promised arrest here, today, of a person for questioning in connection with the six murders of the Frank Lieder home, the night of March 29, failed to develop, while Sheriff D. L. Blankenship, in Eugene, Ore., decided it was not necessary to hold Harry Kimble, fifty-three, arrested on Monday when he appeared there with a battered head.

RELEASED FOR BURIAL
The bodies of the six victims of the terrible struggle in the Lieder home were released for burial. No arrangements have been made for service for the Fleders and Fred Balcom, another of those murdered, but Fleders has six brothers here and in Seattle, who probably will take charge of the bodies.

Private services will be held, Saturday afternoon, at a funeral home here. The Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cheney, and the bodies will be taken to Seattle for cremation. A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Brewer, whose husband, an engineer on the liner Santa Elena, was Mrs. Cheney's son by a former marriage, and Mrs. Cheney's sister, Mrs. Margaret Hartman, of San Francisco, are here making the arrangements. Mrs. Brewer lives in Seattle.

RETURNS TO SCENE
Luke S. May, Seattle chief of detectives, returned here, today, to visit the scene of the murders again and confer with Katsap County Prosecutor R. W. Miller.

Sheriff Blankenship, after comparing Kimble's features with a picture found in the home of Cheney, here, said: "Kimble is not the man we want." Sheriff S. J. McMillan of Kootenai County continued, however, to hold Kimble in jail. Authorities learned that Kimble was actually an acquaintance of Cheney's, having met him here a year ago.

TERMS STATUTE MOST RIDICULOUS

Montreal Judges Denounce Informer Oppose In Laws Governing Sweepstakes Winnings

MONTREAL, April 6 (CP).—Most ridiculous statute in the world, Judge Amodee Monet characterized in Court on Wednesday, today, the law ordering sweepstakes winnings to be turned over to any one informing a magistrate of the lottery, at the same time furnishing the name of the winner and the amount won.

The judge's comment followed his imposition of a fine of $5 and costs upon Eugene Anderson, who had pleaded guilty to holding a winning ticket for $500 in the recent Irish Hospital Sweepstakes. The informer in this case was a friend of Anderson's, Howard Eaton, and the winnings were ordered by the court turned over to the latter.

Default Still Urged On Watershed Pact; Approve Timber Deal

Water Committee Confronted With Deputation From Ratepayers' Association and John Dean — Former Satisfied — Latter Disgruntled

TWO representations were made to the water committee of the city council, at its meeting yesterday morning, one asking that the city default on the Goldstream watershed, and the other asking the city to withhold the sale of timber to the Kapor Lumber Company, on the grounds that it was not good business for the city.

John Dean for some time has urged the committee, urging it to the standing timber on the Goldstream watershed. He claimed the city would be better off if it took a loss on what it already had paid, than if it continued to go through with the contract.

Frank LeRoy headed a deputation from the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, which complained that the timber deal with the Kapor Lumber Company was not a good one. However, after listening to Alderman Andrew McGavin, the deputation was satisfied that the deal made by the city was a good one.

GIVES EXPLANATION

In addressing the delegation, Alderman McGavin said: "We are all familiar with the city's undertaking in connection with expropriation of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company, and that part of the Fairview and Glen Company's arrangement at that time, which was a revenue value to the city of $300,000. They paid to the city in interest and principal $242,800, of which $157,000 was on principal and $85,800 on interest.

"Your water committee entered into negotiations some time ago with the Kapor Lumber Company in connection with the timber deal, which was a revenue value to the city of $300,000. They paid to the city in interest and principal $242,800, of which $157,000 was on principal and $85,800 on interest.

A 266 Lbs. Man Loses Fat

56 Lbs. Off—Feels Better

A woman writes about her husband as follows: "He started to take Kruschen salts for rheumatism. His weight was then 266 lbs. He began to lose weight, and now he is 210 lbs., and feels better. He took half a teaspoonful of Kruschen in a cup of warm water every morning. People keep asking what he has done to fetch his weight down, and he always says 'Kruschen Salts.'" (Mrs. E. S.)

Thousands of overweight men and women find in Kruschen Salts a far better means of reducing than by taking drugs. The little daily dose of Kruschen keeps the organs functioning properly every day and fills you with such a feeling of radiance and vigor that before you know it you are fairly jumping out of your skin with energy instead of moping around—and reduction follows as a matter of course. CELEBRATING ANNIVERSARY

Domestic Air Mail Carried First Time in U.S. Eight Years Ago

Eight years ago yesterday morning, in an open-cockpit biplane with a 200-horsepower motor, Leon D. Cuddeback took off from Pasco, Wash., with air mail bound for Elko, Nev., there to connect with the coast-to-coast service. That flight marked the beginning of operations of the first domestic air mail carrier in the United States.

The eighth anniversary of the entry of that division of United Air Lines' nationwide service is being observed throughout the Pacific Northwest. The advances made by commercial air transportation since 1926 are emphasized in looking back to the inaugural flight.

BIG EXPANSION

Cuddeback's single-engine Swallow plane had a speed of ninety miles an hour. Today United Air Lines has a $4,000,000 fleet of three-mile-a-minute multi-engine Boeing's. Instead of an organization consisting of four pilots, four mechanics, an accountant and a traffic manager, United Air Lines has an organization of 1,400 employees, including 150 pilots. Instead of six airplanes, the company has 110; instead of 20,000 miles of scheduled flying monthly, its planes are flying more than a million miles a month.

Cuddeback and others who participated in organization of the Varney division, as it was known, today recall the pioneering hardships which the line endured.

LOWEST BIDDER

The company was awarded its contract as a result of competitive bidding, just as all its other routes were awarded, because it was the lowest responsible bidder in each case. As it was the lowest bidder, air mail contractor to start operations in the United States and because of the lack of communication facilities, the company was awarded the route.

As a result of purchase of the original Varney route by United Air Lines, the Pacific Northwest today boasts the world's fastest multi-engine passenger plane service, with cities of this district only over night from Chicago and only half a business day distant from New York.

FIND BODY OF BOY HIDDEN IN SAND

Searchers organized to comb the woods along the highway. Shortly before noon several men entered the work noticed that broken twigs and disturbed leaves indicated that someone had been in the bush at a point about three hundred yards from the McFarlane home. They followed the tracks into the woods. Fifty yards from the highway they came to a sink hole. The disturbed sand and earth indicated that something had been buried. Hastily shovels were secured and men went to work.

After uncovering four feet of loose earth and sand they came upon the body of little Johnnie McFarlane.

HEAD CRUSHED

Examination showed that the little fellow had been struck on the back of the head. A terrible gash showed behind his right ear, while other marks of violence bore witness of a crushing blow of tremendous force on the head.

Constable Herdman, horrified by the awful discovery, reported by radio to divisional headquarters at Vancouver, shortly before 3 o'clock.

Within two hours Constables Phipps and Winesgar were on their way up the coast aboard P.M.L. 4, the last police launch.

They arrived at Powell River late last night and immediately started investigations.

The whole town was alarmed at the thought that a homicidal maniac might be at large. The boy had been found in Powell River last night.

HOPE SHATTERED

The parents of the slain lad were prostrated. They had been buoyed up by the faint hope that he would be found alive, following the experience of the two-year-old Hickman baby several days before. This little fellow was not found for two days. Although suffering from hunger and exposure, the little one was alive and is now being nursed back to health. That hope, however, has been shattered.

MYSTERY UNSOLVED

In a telephone communication with Powell River, late last night, it was reported to The Colonist that no solution of the mystery of the death and burial of the boy had been reached. Intensive search will be made for the killer, and police are assured of the fullest possible support of the populace in their quest. The Powell River Company is offering the authorities every possible co-operation in their work.

Powell River is a town of some 5,000 inhabitants, and has boasted a fine record as a law-abiding community. Westview is located several miles from the main part of the town and was formerly known as Michigan.

Says Restorers Ruined Frescoes

ROME, April 6 (AP).—Two priceless frescoes, painted by Michelangelo, in the Pauline Chapel of the Vatican—The Conversion of St. Paul and "The Crucifixion of St. Peter"—have been damaged, if not irretrievably ruined, by a recent restoration, says the critic of Gioia d'Italia, today.

Pietro de Praj, the former technical director of the Vatican Restoration Library, said 1,000 holes had been made in the frescoes.

FILM TRUSTEE SEEKS ADVICE

Court Appealed to for Directions in Legal Aspect of Receivership

The extent to which the mortgages held by Mrs. A. Selden Humphreys upon the assets of Commonwealth Productions, Limited, should have preference has been referred to Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson for directions by H. G. Lawson, K.C., the trustee, representing the creditors of the film production company. The application in the matter came before His Lordship, in the Supreme Court Chambers, yesterday, upon application by J. B. Clearhue, acting for the trustee, with H. G. Lawson, K.C., representing Mrs. Humphreys.

In making the application, Mr. Clearhue pointed out that such a course was provided for. The trustee representing all the creditors was a loss to know just how far he could go until it was decided whether Mrs. Humphreys, under her mortgages of $5,000 and $2,000, had a preference standing over the other creditors with respect to the assets.

Mr. Lawson stated the mortgages were duly executed in a regular way in connection with a business action, and under these instruments he had no doubt that Mrs. Humphreys was given a preference.

REVIEWED HISTORY. Reviewing the situation, Mr. Clearhue said that a contract was entered into on September 12, 1933, by the Commonwealth Productions, Ltd., to make eight pictures for the Showman's Pictures, Incorporated, of New York. The contract was produced which set out that the purchasing company was to be protected against all claims liable to be made with respect to the negatives produced.

Mr. Clearhue stated there could, therefore, be no mortgage placed on the negative. The producing company had assigned to Mrs. Humphreys the right to the $10,000 to be received for the first picture.

Mr. Lawson pointed out that this was an assignment of the money to be received and not a chattel mortgage. It was pointed out that, following this assignment, the mortgage was executed which was to secure the sum of $5,000, which had been loaned to the producers at 10 per cent.

Mr. Clearhue said the position was taken by some creditors that the pictures were not involved under the mortgage which covered the money advanced and due, and all electric lighting and sound equipment. He pointed out that the mortgage included the money due, the goods and chattels and effects, but the pictures themselves were not mentioned.

A second mortgage in the same language as the first one was produced, covering the amount of $2,000.

QUOTA RULE VIOLATED. Then came the correspondence with the Showman's Pictures, concerning the cancellation of the contract, on the ground that the British quota was not complied with, as Mr. Bartle, the secretary of the British quota, was not a British subject, as required. There was some hope of overcoming this defect, but later the suggestion was made in the correspondence that $5,000 might be obtained instead of the $10,000 as originally set.

Mr. Clearhue declared the other picture, partially finished, was in Vancouver. There were three prints of "The Crimson Paradise," one of which was in England, and had never been in Victoria, and it was contended that it should not fall under the same rule as to ownership.

The whole question was really one of whether the pictures were covered by the terms of the mortgages held by Mrs. Humphreys.

Mr. Lawson argued that Mrs. Humphreys, under the arrangements, could take the mortgages received, and, as collateral security, could take the pictures themselves. Mr. Clearhue took the position that the money due for the pictures was not included, but not the pictures themselves.

ASSESSES DUTY UPON LEGACIES

Mr. Justice Robertson Finds That Charities Must Bear Succession Duties

In a judgment handed down yesterday, in the Supreme Court, with respect to the interpretation of the will of the late Martha Moorhouse, Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson reached the conclusion that the various charitable institutions that were left legacies under her will must bear the succession duties payable in respect of each.

The Protestant Orphan's Home, the Aged and Infirm Women's Home and the Aged Men's Home, all of Victoria, were granted bequests under the will of the deceased, who lived in Sidney. The interpretation of the will in the terms of the new Succession Duties Act was the subject of argument two days ago before His Lordship, when J. R. McIlreath, representing the estate of the deceased, and H. A. Maclean, K.C., for the institutions concerned, appeared before the court.

The interpretation was put forward that the intention of the testator was that the legacies should each receive the full amount of the legacy, together with the gift of the legacy duty, and that the succession duties should be paid out of the residue of the estate.

His Lordship interpreted the Succession Duties Act as specifying that unless there is something in the will to the contrary, each legatee must pay the succession duty payable in respect of the legacy.

Interpreting cases covering the point, the court reached the conclusion that it was the meaning of the will in this case that the duties should be assumed by each of the legatees. He, therefore, decided in favor of this course being followed.

SHOWS DANGER IN SYNCRETISM. Ira Dilworth Addresses Members of Vancouver Board of Trade.

VANCOUVER, April 6 (CP).—"The greatest temptation facing our children today is the feeling of syncretism, an attitude which says that life is not worth while and leading us nowhere," declared Mr. Ira Dilworth, principal of the Victoria High School, in addressing members of the Civic Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, at luncheon in Hotel Vancouver on Thursday.

He spoke on "Education, a Civic Asset." Education strikes at the roots of such syncretism and therefore is a matter of paramount importance to any community, he asserted. Since the close of the war, this syncretic attitude towards life has been fostered and grown up until today it is one of youth's greatest dangers.

CONTROL NOT MATERIAL. He urged his audience to foster in education all the aspects that enrich the mind of the child. "The pageant of history is full of evidence that material things do not control humanity," he said.

In making these statements, he requested those present to accept them as axioms. The first one was that the cycle of civilization is not at an end although the general impression is that we are; second is that change within the cycle of civilization is inevitable; while the third is that changes which come about as the result of prejudice are dangerous and hostile to the best interests of the community.

The speaker paid tribute to the citizens of Vancouver in making it greater interest in the fine things of life, such as art and music. He urged a greater study of history as a subject which reveals the struggle of man to make the world worth while.

SWAN IS FOUND DEAD IN PARK

Cecil French Offers $100 Reward in Effort to End Salt Poisoning

With the death of a female swan in the English Park, on Wednesday, and the discovery that a male swan in the park also was showing symptoms of salt poisoning, Cecil French, of the Elk Lake Bird Sanctuary, yesterday offered a reward of $100 to any person giving information leading to the conviction of the person or persons who have perpetrated the deed.

The female swan was one of a pair presented to the city by His Majesty the King and placed in the Lily Pond in Beacon Hill Park. The fowl reared four young ones last year, and a post mortem revealed that the bird would have laid four eggs for breeding this year had it not been poisoned.

Dr. B. A. Bruce, Dominion animal pathologist at the Sidney Experimental Farm; Dr. W. R. Gunn, director of animal industry for the Provincial Government, and D. E. Whitaker, analyst and assayer for the Provincial Government, all conducted tests, as also did Mr. French, who himself is a pathologist. It was found that the swan had eaten rock salt.

SUGAR REFINERY PLANT PROPOSED. R. B. Tait, of Keating, has been appointed agent here for the Fraser Valley Sugar Beet Holding Company, Limited, with a view to signing contracts among the farmers on the mainland and here. The company is to establish a sugar beet industry on the mainland and here. The mainland production would be around 6,000 acres.

A plant having 1,000 tons daily capacity is part of the plan. This factory would handle approximately 150,000 tons of sugar beets a year to provide the British Columbia market with the sugar.

At the Theatres. "Son of Kong" is Presentation With Robert Armstrong in Leading Role.

Three musketeers—a man, a maid and a gigantic white ape, going hand-in-hand into a lost land, in search of the buried treasure of an ancient civilization, is the tale unfolded in "Son of Kong," RKO-Radio Pictures' sequel to "King Kong," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

Robert Armstrong, the hero of "King Kong," is again featured with Helen Mack and a cast of more than thirty well-known players. The story opens with Armstrong seeking buried treasure on Skull Island, land of prehistoric monsters, accompanied by a girl (Helen Mack) who smuggles herself aboard his ship.

Ashore, Denham finds the Son of Kong, a gigantic white ape, sinking in quicksand. He rescues the creature and the gigantic giant attaches itself to the party as a self-constituted bodyguard and servant.

It is a spectacular sequence, during which the efforts of the beast to save its human companions presents a startling bit of drama. Held to be the most spectacular and thrilling of all professional sports, automobile racing for the first time is accorded outstanding burlesque comedy treatment in some of the farce sequences of "Hips, Hips, Hooray," RKO-Radio Pictures' musical extravaganza starring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, which is also shown.

COLUMBIA Joe E. Brown heads a THEATRE cast of 1,000 goes in his latest comedy, "Son of a Sailor," a First National picture now showing at the Capitol Theatre. The gobs are all actors attached to the U. S. S. Saratoga, an airplane carrier of the Pacific fleet, on which a large portion of the picture was shot. Also shown is "The Kennel Murder Case" with William Powell.

PLAYHOUSE "Fashions of 1934" now showing at the Playhouse, is a comedy romance starring William Powell with Betty Davis playing opposite him. Others in the cast include Verree Teasdale, Reginald Owen, Henry O'Neill, Hugh Herbert, Phillip Reed and Gordon Westcott. William Dieterle directed.

Mr. Holland, who is registered at the Empress Hotel, stated that the upturn was decidedly marked in the large manufacturing centres of the East, where factories were speeding up to fill orders, while in the West things appeared to be greatly improved over a year ago.

NO REFUNDATION

Mr. Bennett has rendered a service of high value to Canada by his speech in the House of Commons in which he stated in unmistakable language that there is to be no refundation of debts by the Dominion. The Prime Minister dealt faithfully with the fantastic proposals which form the oratorical stock-in-trade of those radicals and Utopians who try, though with indifferent success, to conceal the bankruptcy of their ideas by means of a copious and continuous flow of words.

The speech set forth clearly some important points relating to Canada's financial obligations. There is an opinion that our Government securities are in the hands of the rich. The fact is that rich people vary their investments and spread them over a wide field instead of placing large sums in any one security. The holders of Canadian securities are insurance companies, estates in trust created for scientific, educational and health purposes, private trusts to provide for minors, and private investments in annuities for the old age of individuals.

Very little reflection is necessary to make clear the effect upon the citizens of Canada if the Dominion failed to keep faith with the insurance companies. Also we should seriously consider the effect of default by the Dominion upon educational and other endowments, as well as upon the prospects of all who have invested in any form of life insurance with private companies or old age annuities with the government.

Mr. Bennett sees grave difficulties in the way of consolidating provincial and Dominion debts. In the first place, the provinces have as yet given no indication of a willingness on their part to make concessions as to incurring future obligations. Even if this difficulty were overcome there would still be the problem of creating one form of consolidated security. Consolidation at a lower rate of interest could be arranged only with the consent of the holders of securities in Canada, Great Britain, and the United States, or else by repudiating obligations entered into by the borrowers.

It is well worth while to quote the exact words of Mr. Bennett upon the subject of interest. He said: "Interest is no new thing. It is not anything which has been discovered in the twentieth or the nineteenth, or the fifteenth century. It is as old as the very foundations of our civilization, that when a man borrowed money from another he paid for the use of it, and by and by this began to be called interest. Whether or not it has been a wise practice is not for me, with my limited knowledge, to say. This I do know, however, that this magnificent structure of insurance which has dominated the whole of our civilization is predicated upon the fact that money will earn something by way of interest in order that contracts contained in policies may be paid."

A SCOTTISH DICTIONARY

Scottish people and all admirers of Doric speech will watch with interest the growth of the Scottish National Dictionary, three parts of the first volume of which have already been published. The total work will extend to ten volumes, and is planned to include all Scottish words known to be in use, or to have been in use, since 1700. "Brail Scots" is still widely spoken and still more widely cherished with an emotion hardly understandable by those whose language has never been threatened. It has the appeal, as a writer in The Manchester Guardian suggests, of poetry as defined by A. E. Housman, in that it finds in the Scot, obscure and latent, something older than the present organization of his nature.

An extraordinary proof of its appeal was given some time ago when the minister of a city church in Scotland, the gallery of which had been closed for years, began to preach in Scots, against all custom. The gallery had to be reopened—and closed as soon as he was transferred to another parish. In view of this the voluminous work cannot be dismissed as "baggage" which is Scots for trash; nor can any intellectual "bawling" or burly ruffian, deride the "barmy" love for their ain speech as a reversal to mental "balm-time." These forty parts of the coming dictionary will provide many a bit of "bap," or small loaf of bread, to all whose emotions have their fountainhead north of the Tweed.

SPECIAL POWERS ACT

The Toronto Saturday Night characterizes the Special Powers Act passed by the British Columbia Legislature at its late session as an "amazing proposal." The British North America Act presupposed that whenever legislation was enacted in a province it would be enacted in the customary parliamentary manner. The British North America Act did not contemplate that the legislative powers of the Provincial Legislatures would be surrendered by those bodies to their Lieutenant-Governors-in-Council, even for a limited period of time. Saturday Night says that the surrendering of power by the legislative body to the Government "is always an undesirable step, and this example of it is the most extreme and one of the least necessary that Canada has ever witnessed." Saturday Night goes on to say: "Mr. Pattullo and his party were put in power; it is generally supposed, by an electorate chiefly concerned to protect itself from a gigantic extension of the field of governmental activity such as was to be expected from a C.C.F. administration. It is distinctly ironical that they should take advantage of their immense majority to place in the hands of the Government a blanket power of interference, regulation and confiscation—which is all that the most ambitious C.C.F. member could wish—and which will afford a precedent for equally unlimited powers whenever a Socialistic Government manages to get into office.

"The preservation of liberty in these difficult times will only be possible if all these special powers be kept within the narrowest possible limits, and if the right of the Opposition to criticize and dissent the actions of the Government party be preserved to the utmost. If the so-called Liberal Government of British Columbia is serious in its proposals, it is working towards the destruction of parliamentary government. It is possible that it is not serious, and that it is merely trying to embarrass the Conservative Government of the Dominion. In ordinary times such an effort would be more or less legitimate party politics; in the present times it seems like playing with fire.

"In these circumstances we have no hesitation in saying that the Bill should be disallowed by the Dominion Government. If it is not disallowed we shall have witnessed one more step in the long process of the breaking up of the British Confederation which was conceived by the Fathers and embodied in the British North America Act, and which has for a generation of more been subjected to the dissolving action of an utterly anti-national concept of provincial rights."

THE USE OF TONSILS

There seems to be a generally accepted opinion, especially in these latter days, that much of throat trouble is caused by tonsils and that a way to eliminate it is to have the tonsils out. In any event there are more and more people, and especially children, who, for medical reasons, have lost this part of the human organism. The assumption would therefore, seem to be that tonsils are a superfluous, just as the appendix is characterized when it begins to give trouble. This opinion is combated by the editor of Health For All who believes that the tonsils have a very definite purpose and that their removal must of necessity "place a strain on other organs of the body." Here is his statement:

"The purpose of the tonsils is to neutralize and eliminate toxins that originate in the region of the throat and nose, or that enter the system through the nasal passages and mouth. That is definitely the object for which they are intended, and, if they are removed, not only is a channel left for the free entry of poisons into the body from outside, but a source of elimination is also removed, with a consequent strain upon the other eliminative organs."

TO HELP IS TO GAIN

If your heart is full of sadness,
And your life is full of care,
Help to bear another's burdens,
Somebody else's troubles share,
And in grieving for their pain,
You will find your joy again.

If your life is full of joy,
Tired grow your heart and brain,
Stretch a helping hand to others,
Bending 'neath life's stress and strain,
And from every loving deed,
Back will come the strength you need.

—Evelyn Young.

HARD TIMES IN THE FREE STATE
The truth is that the "economic war" is ruining the Free State. Britain has recouped herself for Mr. de Valera's default. The Free State producers' revolt has waxed fat at their expense; and, for all the government's bounties and subsidies and other adventures, the export trade has dwindled almost to vanishing point. Mr. de Valera attempts to foster native industry and to counteract the effects of a late export are meeting with scant success. The inhabitants of the Free State shortly will be privileged to eat home-made sugar at 721 a ton, while their neighbors in the North will be able to buy their supplies at 47. If, and when, the new cement factories are established, prices will rise in like manner; and there is not a single venture which has never been the cost of living to the consumer. Local authorities are at their wits' end to cope with the additional demand upon their slender funds. Farmers and their laborers are without ready money to meet their ordinary obligations, and the whole country is living on a rapidly contracting credit. The only hope for the economic recovery of the twenty-six counties is the liquidation of the "economic war." While the British market remains closed, conditions must continue to go from bad to worse.—Weekly Irish Times.

I never was on the dull tame shore,
But I loved the great sea more and more.

NANAIMO, April 6.—At a meeting of the Nanaimo Fish and Game Association, at which over sixty members were present, a resolution of the hunting licence from $3.50 to $2 was favored. The meeting also expressed its approval of the continuation of the all-buck law.

A resolution regretting the recent resignation of John Graham, game inspector, with headquarters at Nanaimo, was passed, and a copy forwarded to A. Bryan Williams, game commissioner, and to the Hon. Gordon Sloan, Attorney-General. Mr. Graham had been connected with the administration of the game laws of British Columbia for twenty-six years.

Health For Young Girls Happiness For Tired Women

Thousands of women become tired and run down, become thin and pale, and profound weakness makes life a burden.

The whole outlook of life is changed when the nervous, sick headaches, the sleeplessness, the spells of dizziness, of weakness and discouragement, and the tired, languid feelings disappear with the use of Milburn's H. & N. Enthusiastic Crowd Gives New Laurels To Operatic Society

Their Excellencies and Lieut.-Governor Congratulate Company on Presentation of "The Yeomen of the Guard"—Prolonged Applause Accorded

FOR three or four minutes the vast audience at the Royal Victoria Theatre, last night, gave voice to their approval of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Yeomen of the Guard," as produced by the Victoria Operatic Society, by insistent and clamorous applause. Throughout the entire performance, encore after encore was demanded.

The crowning tribute to the success of the performance came from the company when their Excellencies, the Earl and Countess of Bessborough, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson, and, of course, the Lieut.-Governor, were escorted to the stage to convey to the producers, principals and company their deep appreciation for the splendid presentation.

His Excellency particularly expressed his pleasure, and through the evening took a keen interest in the various principal parts. The performance will be repeated again tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

FRESH LAURELS

At the presentation of "The Mikado," the audience was so enthusiastic, so that the company can consider it has won fresh laurels. The performance will be repeated again tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

In solo work, duets, trios, quartets, choruses, settings, costumes, lighting, in fact, in every department there was nothing to be desired. If there was any doubt as to the success of last night's performance, that doubt would have been quickly dispelled in anyone's mind by listening to the high commendatory remarks of the patrons as they wended their way from the theatre, which, incidentally, was well filled.

OUTSTANDING CHORUS

While the various parts were well cast, both as to characterization and vocal talent, to Harry J. Davis, who played the part of Jack Point, the leader, must go the credit of having a superb chorus. He had a dual role, one of tragedy behind laughter, and he made the smiles come from behind the tears with a touchingness that bespoke real stage experience and attention to detail. His restraint at the close of the play, where too tragic a note might have spoiled the act, was most commendable.

Phyllis Deville, as Phoebe Meryll, made a vivacious and intriguing actress. Nature in many aspects of the style and work of these artists, she took up the Impressionist, which included Monet, Renoir, Degas, Seurat, Cezanne, Van Gogh, Gauguin, Matisse and Picasso, Courbet, Manet, and others, three realists in the Impressionist school, had really captured the inspiration of the Impressionists. With the recognition of the old classical school, as illustrated in the case of Delacroix, one of the most noted of whose pictures, "Dante's Boat," proved acceptable to the traditional school, because he had included a portrait of Virgil among his figures. Similarly, one by the same artist, "Massacre of St. Bartholomew," was a forerunner of the Impressionist study of color, particularly the color of shadows.

THE ROMANTICISTS

Miss Auld devoted the opening part of her talk to the last of the Romanticists—Gericault, Delacroix, Corot, Millet, Daubigny, Courbet and Manet. Among the modern Canadians whose work was shown was Holgate, Varley (Vancouver), Jackson (noted for his Quebec scenes), Lamer, Macdonald, Tom Thompson, Harris, Weston and Carmichael.

Miss Emily Carr, of Victoria, whose work was much praised from the group, was present in last night's audience. The slides selected to illustrate the work of the Canadian artists exemplified the lecturer's comment that this Western school is concerned not only with design but with mood, the pictures depicting Nature in many aspects of the style and work of these artists, she took up the Impressionist, which included Monet, Renoir, Degas, Seurat, Cezanne, Van Gogh, Gauguin, Matisse and Picasso, Courbet, Manet, and others, three realists in the Impressionist school, had really captured the inspiration of the Impressionists. Similarly, one by the same artist, "Massacre of St. Bartholomew," was a forerunner of the Impressionist study of color, particularly the color of shadows.

SHARES HONORS

Coupled with the name of Harry Davis should be that of John A. Macdonald, who took the part of Wilfred Shadbolt, described as "a helpless ninny" of a jailer. He portrayed the guest of honor at a reception held at the Business and Professional Women's Club, where the president, Mrs. H. H. Halls, expressing the members' appreciation of the interesting lecture series and the manner in which it had been received, in Victoria.

GUARDS PLANE IN STEAMING JUNGLE

and had severe mouth lacerations, and he was taken to the hospital and placed in the plane and guarded the ship's cargo of gold which the plane was carrying for the Government mint at Medellin.

STARTED THROUGH JUNGLE

For two weeks Marshall remained at the week, but eventually he figured he was not coming and so set out for civilization.

Being an old hand in fighting the jungles, from which few whites have ever emerged alive, Marshall managed to keep on the move, and on March 27 he was found by a group of primitive Indians, prodded by blow guns.

The Indians, after giving him aid, agreed to guide him to the nearest town, and as they walked along a jungle trail, the party found the body of Captain Geck, the pilot, who, also, had tried to reach the outside world.

Officials indicated that Marshall will be taken to the town of Pereira, in Caldas Department, for further treatment. He was still suffering from his four weeks in the back country, but was somewhat improved.

REWARD FOR INDIANS

The five Indians who found him will receive a reward of 7,000 pesos (about $4,300). The mining concern had offered 5,000 pesos for the finding of the miner, and the Scandia Line, a commercial airline, owner of the plane, had offered 2,000 pesos for information regarding the plane.

A hunt for a reported treasure in gold coins had lured the Indians into the desolate region where the plane fell.

Marshall was nearly exhausted when he came upon the plane. He had lived on forest plants and vines, just as an Indian would have done.

GREETINGS RECEIVED

Greetings were read from Mrs. F. Conroy, of St. Michael's, and Mrs. J. J. Arncliffe, of St. Michael's, containing wishes for continued success of the organization. Following this, Mrs. H. J. Arncliffe briefly addressed the gathering.

Rev. William Allan was introduced to the guests and gave a brief outline of his work among the Indians of Northern British Columbia and spoke in highest terms of the work that the women of the Missionary Society were doing.

Following the meeting, the guests adjourned to the schoolroom, where tea was served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed. The birthday cake, which was made and donated by Mrs. J. H. and decorated with thirty candles, was cut by the president, Mrs. Allison.

Sons and Daughters of B.C. Open Sessions Here

Two Societies Are Holding Annual Meetings in Capital City—Delegates Attend Official Dinner—Election of Officers Today

Thirty-five years ago, in this city, the Native Sons of British Columbia was founded. Yesterday, delegates representing different posts of the order, the Native Daughters of British Columbia, met in separate conventions here. An outstanding feature of the occasion was the fact that J. Stuart Yates, one of the four founders of the movement, was present at the combined dinner and dance last night in the Empress Hotel, to give welcome to the delegates.

Native Sons met in the K. of P. Hall under the leadership of J. Ormby Lee, while Native Daughters, under the Grand Factor's gavel of Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, convened in the New Troughton Hall.

ECONOMIC STUDY
In addition to routine business, Native Sons yesterday afternoon discussed in detail plans for the organization of post bureaus to make careful analysis and constructive study of the different economic problems confronting the Province. Considerable ground work was accomplished during the past year in this work, which was considered to be of great worth to the future development of British Columbia.

Claiming no special privileges by reason of birth, members of the order assume special responsibilities, it was pointed out, and among such is constructive planning for the future of the Province. Being non-partisan in character, the organization believes that it is in a position to make helpful suggestions toward the creation of a better and more prosperous Province. Such suggestions, it was stated, are only advanced after exhaustive study of the economic history of British Columbia and based upon the observations and experiences of hundreds of members who have the closest possible acquaintance with the different parts of the country.

The Sea Cadet bugle band called the crowd to order, after which they played the National Anthem. The Sea Scouts and Cubs repeated their promise while standing at attention. Major Harding, commissioner of Sea Scouts, spoke a few words, declaring the fair open.

The hall was very prettily decorated. The home cooking stall, in charge of Mrs. Wardale and Miss Dykes, was a treat to behold and did a very good business. Mrs. W. T. Walker, in charge of the lucky dip, had her tubs artistically arranged under a bow of flowers and Easter lilies. Adults and children alike were anxious to try their luck and none was disappointed. Mrs. Harte and her group of helpers were kept very busy serving tea. The confectionery and soft drinks stall proved popular. The Junior division was responsible for the novel in which the stall was arranged, had many donations of home-made candy, every description from friends in all parts of Victoria. Mrs. Jones was sold out by early evening.

Mrs. E. Harwood and Miss M. Rainsford were kept busy serving hot dogs and pies until the end of the evening. Mr. Inglis, with the help of his wife, was a regular amusement company of his own with a variety of games and a large stock of prizes.

The coconut shell was looked after by Mr. Bardsley, the football, which had to be kicked through a hole in the fence, was taken care of by Mr. E. Harwood. House-houses were conducted by Mrs. W. T. Walker, who had a very good supply of prizes, all of which were British Columbia products. Mr. E. Harwood was the winner of the lot of wood, Mrs. J. Edwards was in receipt of customs.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

ROYAL OAK
A successful daffodil flower show and tea were held by the Royal Oak Women's Institute in the institute hall on Thursday afternoon. The main feature was the paper flower-making demonstration conducted by Mrs. David Spencer, Ltd. Prizes for the flower exhibition were awarded as follows: Best bowl of daffodils, first prize, Miss P. Fowler; second, Mrs. F. Conley. Best bowl of Spring flowers, first prize, Mrs. Conley; second, Mrs. Hoole. Best collection of wild flowers, Patsy Hutchinson, first prize, and Hardy plants, made and donated by Mrs. Hutchinson, was won by Mrs. J. B. Carmichael. The door collection was in charge of Mrs. A. Rankin.

VICTORIA
An enjoyable social, convened by Mrs. J. Terry, was held by the Victoria Women's Institute at its rooms, 944 Yates Street, on Friday afternoon. Winners of the guessing contest were: First, Mrs. M. McGregor; second, Mrs. Charles McLean. Miss E. Friend contributed piano solos and accompanied Mrs. K. Hole, who sang two charming vocal solos. Miss Irma Paik delighted the members with two recitations. Given in a realistic manner, these selections were much appreciated. A bridge party will be held on Tuesday afternoon, April 17, at headquarters.

PARKSVILLE
The Parksville Women's Institute met recently in the Parish Hall. Included in the business of the day was a letter from the Nanaimo Bay Solarium acknowledging a gift of five and a half cases of eggs. A debate followed between members on the question: "Resolved: That Smoking is a Bad Habit for Women." This occasioned a great deal of interest and amusement. No decision was given, both sides being ably defended. A pretty bouquet of Spring flowers and congratulations were tendered to an old member and Easter bride, Mrs. Tupman, (nee Stead).

LIBERAL DANCE TONIGHT
The Victoria West Liberal Social Club will hold its regular dance tonight, from 9 o'clock to 12 midnight, in the Liberal headquarters, Broughton Street. Usual contests will be held. Liberals and friends are invited.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m., from 12 noon to 2 p.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m. The danger periods are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Be careful to avoid giving offence

by declining any invitation that might be extended to you on this date. Remember some people are very sensitive about having their hospitality refused, unless there is a very good and logical reason offered. Explanations are really due when one is unable to accept social entertainment, and entirely too many take for granted an abrupt declination is all that is necessary. If April 7 is your birthday, you are anything that borders on the dramatic, and are very fond of the theatre. It might be a part of wisdom not to assume an emotional or dramatic pose in everyday life, for it does not appeal to the vast majority of your friends. Do not let your love of the theatre allow you to become stage-struck, for you can do much better financially in other pursuits. Being very artistic, designing, arranging, and decorating are your long suits, and the good taste displayed will earn recognition.

The child born on April 7, when old enough to do so, may display decided histrionic talent. Special attention should be paid to its education, and it should be taught at least one foreign language. If it displays the slightest interest in music, it should be encouraged, and given the opportunity of receiving a good musical foundation. This child, when it grows up, might have the opportunity of becoming interested in radio work and the knowledge gained through proper preparatory work would prove invaluable. The woman born on April 7 has decidedly aesthetic taste, and is most appreciative of the beautiful. Travel will give her educational advantages, and will prove of great help if she follows a business career. For married life to be successful she must be mated with a man intellectually her equal, and one possessing innate refinement. You do not have to subordinate your delicacy of feelings to the boisterous and rude ones so frequently displayed by uncultured people with whom at times you may be thrown into contact in commercial life. The man born on April 7 is gifted with the ability to create original ideas, mostly of a very practical nature. As an artist, or writer, his creative ability will be far from commonplace. Those who are active in educational work have frequently such advanced ideas that they may often lead to misunderstanding of their import. Progress sive ideas, and ideals, are the chief characteristics of those born on this date. Two little boys had misbehaved in school, and as a punishment the teacher told them they would have to stay late, and that each must write his name 100 times on hearing this, one of them burst into tears. "Taint fair," he cried. "His name is Lee and mine's Kastenbaumenstein."

PARTY AT SOOKE

By kind permission of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Osburn, a bridge and military five hundred party, sponsored by the Holy Trinity Church committee, will be held at "The Bluff," Sooke, at 8 p.m., on Thursday, April 12.

NOTED HEBREW TO SPEAK HERE

Dr. Holzer, of Palestine, Will Hold Conference at Elbethel Hall

Dr. Armin A. Holzer, general secretary of the Palestine Mission Board and editor of Palestine, is again visiting Victoria for a city-wide interdenominational evangelistic Bible conference, to be held in the Elbethel Gospel Assembly Hall, 719 Courtney, one-half block east of Douglas Street.

Dr. Holzer, well known to Victorians, is the converted son of a Jewish rabbi, an able and eloquent speaker and teacher of the Word of God and a veritable flame on the platform. He plans to leave soon for Palestine to share for the missionary interests there.

Services will be held all day Sunday, the pastor, Mrs. Ruby L. Krook, delivering the morning message at 11 o'clock. Dr. Holzer will speak at 3 on "The Three Comings of Christ on Earth," and at night on

Women Preachers Warm Subject in Scotland's Kirks

SOME of the repercussions following the birth of a baby in a certain Glasgow manse will be told in tomorrow's church feature. Also some information as to the attitude of the various communions in the matter of giving women an equal status in the pulpit with men. While this status is not pressed for in Canada it is being urged by a considerable section of such a serious religious body as the Church of Scotland.

"The Signs Christ Mentioned Concerning His Coming Again." On Monday evening a stereoscopic Bible exposition on the Book of Revelation at 7:30 o'clock, on Tuesday at 10 the subject to be "Right and Wrong Divisions of the Word of God, or How to Read the Bible Aright." Equally helpful subjects will be taken up each morning and evening.

MEMBERS CALLED TO MEET MONDAY

Plans for City Temple's Future Will Be Discussed by Congregation on April 9

The board of directors of the City Temple met on Tuesday evening for discussion of the future policy of the Temple. The resignation, as designated by Dr. Davies on Sunday evening last, was accepted without prejudice. Speakers for Sunday services are being arranged for. Maurice Thomas will be the evening soloist. A live offering of the members and associates is called for Monday evening, April 9, at 8 o'clock, when plans will be laid before them for their discussion at the future policy of the organization. It is hoped that all members with voting powers will be present. The Ladies' League will meet at the home of Mrs. Oakley, Saul Street, on Tuesday at 8 o'clock. All other organizations will meet as usual.

The ideal way to start the new season is to observe the three principal steps toward perfecting your singing:

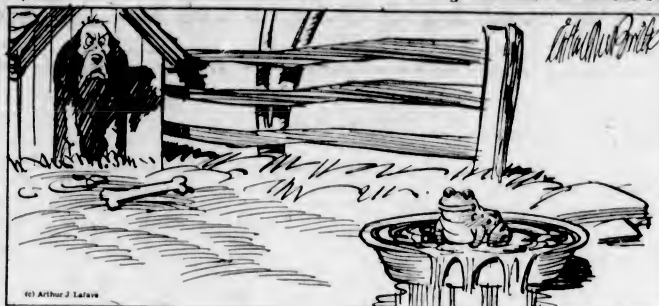

1. Indoor practice.
2. Outdoor practice.
3. Warming-up exercises.

Indoor practice is particularly helpful when it comes to loosening up your muscles and joints.

Once you start playing outdoors, you'll not want to loosen up properly, so do it now. Put a walka record on the phonograph or get a slow walka tune on the radio. Swing a short club or a cane back and forth in time with the music.

When you can swing without interruption and feel the down beat of the music with your downswing,

TO THE LADIES

By VIRGINIA VANE

Dear Miss Vane: I have been so much interested in all the letters written you on the subject of mothers-in-law and all your answers too. Now I want some help with my problem.

To begin with, I don't hate my mother-in-law, but I am afraid of her. I suspect her of criticizing me, and I am so sensitive I hate criticism. I believe that the situation is partly my fault since I am so timid when I am with her that it is small wonder if she thinks I am a total loss. Of course I try not to let my husband know all that goes on but I think he suspects that his mother and I are not good friends. Does this matter to him—do you think? M. Make up your mind here and now to vamp your mother-in-law just as you'd have vamped the best looking boy in town in the old days before your marriage. Don't look on the older woman as an enemy—look on her as a potential ally. Make up your mind to get her on your side.

Believe me it isn't so difficult as it sounds. Mother likes to feel that she has the personality and charm to win the heart of her son's wife. That's the impression you must give her of herself—a delightful, fascinating older woman irresistible in her charm.

You will find that the criticism you dread will turn to applause, once you've made it clear what a riot your mother-in-law is. I have heard these vamped mothers-in-law talking over the women their sons have married and I've been amazed. Truly some of them go on as if they were discussing their very own flesh and blood.

"Dear Edna she's a marvel. So sweet to me—so thoughtful. I tell John he's one lucky boy—and I hope he realizes it. Oh, no, I wouldn't dream of wearing black. Edna says it doesn't suit me. She flatters me terribly I know—but she says she honestly thinks I'm miles too young to wear anything as dreary as black. She's coming over this afternoon to help me choose a new dress."

No that isn't the speech of a fond mother—but a fond mother-in-law. When I heard it I sent out a silent message of congratulation to Edna who had so ingratiated herself into the good grace of her husband's mother—that even John himself couldn't come between them!

As for your second question, M. I think it is very likely of importance to your husband that you get along well with his mother. Most men like to see their womenfolk keeping up at least a good pretence of amity.

When a man discovers that his wife has taken all the trouble to make a real pal of his mother, his gratitude knows no bounds. He is touched by the effort, his little helpmeet has made for the sake of his family. He is amazed at her cleverness in mastering a difficult situation. He admires and respects her twice as much when she is successful in handling this diplomatic negotiation. No man really ever believes that it's all his mother's fault that there is war between the old generation and the new. Secretly, he goes on thinking that if he did only had more brains and tact she'd get the best of mother. And usually, he's right. So go to it, M., and make a good job of it. Remember that you hold most of the cards. You've got the man you're interested in. He's much more crazy about you than he ever was of mother. You can afford to be generous and to ladle out the soft soap. And watch it work!

A Warning to Married M. K. Who Has Crush on Office Hero

Dear Miss Vane—I read, a few days ago, the letter from M. K. who was hesitating as to whether or not she should confess to the man she loved that she cared deeply for him.

I feel I am sorry must write to her through your column to tell her of my own case. It is so much like hers. I, too, am a married woman. For years my husband made me miserable with unreasoning jealousy. That is not an excuse for what followed, but possibly it is an explanation.

I, too, work at a place of business and I saw there every day a man I fell in love with. Finally, after a year of seeing him daily, I took the plunge—did just exactly what M. K. proposed to do. I told him I cared for him. He seemed flattered and very happy about it.

I saw him all I could, whenever I could. It dawned on me not long after that he wasn't really in love with me at all, but that he hoped to have the usual affair with me which one expects of a married woman. When I denied him this he was angry, or sulky, or just indifferent. He still comes to see me a great deal, but there is nothing real in his love. I can feel that, yet I love him so desperately I cannot let him go.

You see, M. K., what a mess I've made of my life—and all through my own efforts. Had I not told this man of my feelings for him, we would never have started this miserable affair. He wouldn't have suspected my feeling, and would have shown no interest in me at all. All he comes to see me for now is to be flattered with evidences of my devotion.

And I would have had to forget

WESTERN LINES OF CANADIAN PACIFIC CHANGES PERSONNEL

WINNIPEG, April 6.—Several temporary changes in the operating personnel of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the West were announced today by W. M. Neal, general manager, Western lines.

Andrew Halkett, general superintendent of the Manitoba district, is granted leave of absence during recuperation from illness, and H. J. Main, now superintendent at Saskatoon, will become acting-general superintendent, Manitoba, with offices in Winnipeg. Mr. Halkett came here from Calgary a little more than a year ago.

J. L. Jamieson, superintendent in Calgary, takes over the Saskatoon division, and William Macdonald, former Winnipeg, now superintendent at Nelson, takes over the Calgary division as superintendent, while the changes are in force.

F. C. Sharpe becomes acting-superintendent at Nelson, and G. L. Phillips becomes acting-assistant superintendent at Minnedosa.

Stratosphere Is To Be Invaded by Delaware Couple

WILMINGTON, Del., April 6 (AP).—An overnight flight into the stratosphere—with a woman in the big gondola pilot seat, and a tall, respected man deep in study of scientific data—is to be undertaken this summer by the Piccards of Wilmington.

Mrs. Jean Piccard, wife of Dr. Jean Piccard, twin brother of the famous Belgian, Professor Auguste, who has twice ascended into the upper reaches, had disclosed tentative plans for the flight today.

With herself as pilot, Mrs. Piccard said the trip will begin in July or August.

There will be no attempt to smash any altitude records, Mrs. Piccard said, for they intend going aloft only about as high as did Lieutenant-Commander T. G. W. Settle and Major Chester Fordney, last summer.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, April 6 (CP).—B. W. Greer & Son, agent for Nippon Kaisha and the Isthmian Line, reports the N.Y.K. passenger liner Ma Hikawa Maru due Quarantine at 6 o'clock on Saturday morning and at Vancouver shortly after midday. The ship will land seventy-five passengers at Terminal Dock. She also has two cars of alk and 1,100 tons cargo for Vancouver.

Sa. Montgomery City, of Isthmian Line, will arrive Sunday for Liverpool, London, Avonmouth and Swansea.

Royal Mail Lines has the Holland-America Line M. S. Delfdyk (Captain J. Stamperius) in port with United Kingdom and Continental freight.

Canadian Transport Co. reports M. S. Elg arrived on Fraser River this morning to commence loading for United Kingdom.

It used to be said that whenever a Scot got to London he never went back home—except to fetch his brother. That notion is out of date, according to Lord Dewart, who remarked recently: "There are not nearly so many Scots travelling down to London as there used to be. They get born in London, nowadays, to save the fare."

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

Gizeh Temple Shrine Band and Vocal Artists Will End Twilight Series

Last of a series of twilight concerts, given in the Metropolitan United Church during the past few months, will be held tomorrow afternoon, when the Gizeh Temple Shrine Band will provide the programme.

Harold Parfitt, baritone, and the Imperial Male Quartette, comprising Frank L. Tupman, J. W. Buckler, J. Oakman and Jack Townsend, will be the guest artists. Mr. Parfitt will sing "Nearer, My God, to Thee" (Adams) and "Service" (Cadman). The selections chosen by the quartette are "Comrade's Song of Hope" (Adams) and "Abide With Me" (Coleman).

The band will open with a hymn, "Unto the Hills." This will be followed by "Under the Double Eagle" march; "Caliph of Bagdad" overture; "Fall of Jericho," descriptive overture; "In a Monastery Garden," characteristic intermezzo; "First Heart Throbs," a salon piece; selected hymns, and Liddle's "Abide With Me."

NEW NARCOTIC RAVAGES CHINA

Taking Place of Opium Smoking in Spite of Death Penalty

PEIPING, China, April 6 (CP).—Opium smoking has long been one of the main curses of the Chinese people, but today a more deadly habit is spreading rapidly—the taking of "red pills."

Made of an opium derivative, the "red pills" are even more habit-forming than the smoking of opium. They are small, easily hidden and easily transported and the profit to be derived from dealing in them is enormous.

DEATH FOR TRAFFICKERS

In the Peiping area and in Shansi Province, just to the west, the death penalty is imposed upon all traffickers in this form of drug, but it has been officially stated that the secret manufacture of "red pills" is increasing and the number of illicit dealers is multiplying rapidly.

"Red pills" require no such cumbersome apparatus as opium pipes and they are said to have a much more exhilarating effect than the smoking of opium. They are inexpensive and the use of them is spreading through all classes of society.

NEWSPAPER CAMPAIGN

The Shun Pao, one of the most influential Chinese language daily newspapers, is conducting a campaign against this new drug habit, warning the people that, since the use of "red pills" quickly results in sterility, the very welfare and existence of the Chinese nation are at stake.

It is unofficially estimated at least 30,000,000 people living north of the Yangtze River are today confirmed users of the "red pills." Whole armies have contracted the habit.

MOVE TO PLACE PROVINCE GRANT

Reeve William Crouch Will Meet Saanich School Board to Decide Who Gets $5,000

The solution of the mystery of the allocation of the $5,000 grant from the Government to Saanich Municipality for teachers' salaries seemed nearer a close, Thursday, at a municipal council meeting, when Reeve William Crouch was named to take the matter up with the school board's finance committee.

Wednesday night, at a school board meeting, that body thought the money should belong to them, while the council was under the impression that the fund would be placed in the municipal treasury, at its disposal.

PETITIONS BOARD

However, Reeve Crouch petitioned the school board to have them turn the funds over to the council to avoid any difficulties. That body decided to let the finance committee of the board settle the problem. Some discussion at the council meeting, Thursday, revealed that the council could get the money by amending the 1934 tax by-law, as yet unpassed, by taking one mill from the school levy and placing the mill on the general account. This would not alter the mill rate, but would show that the school board needed only $70,000 from the municipal treasury instead of $84,000, as estimated for.

It is expected that the whole affair will be completely decided before the council meets again next Thursday night.

THE NAME "CHAMELEON"

"As changeable as a chameleon," quotes a reader. And then, "Does this name mean 'changeable'—what is its origin?"

Literally the name of this animal is "lion on the ground," or "ground lion." We have it from the Latin "chameleon," the first two syllables being from the Greek, meaning "on the ground," with "lion," lion.

The name originated in the fact that the chameleon is of the lizard family—"on the ground." This reptile's color changes with the color of the objects about it, or, we are told, with a change of temperature, disturbed.
